FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

September 22, 2009

CHARLES BUKOVINSKY, MD, JOINS VALLEY HEALTH

Hurricane, W.Va. – Valley Health is pleased to announce the expansion of its Hurricane practice to include experienced family medicine practitioner, Charles Bukovinsky, MD.

Dr. Bukovinsky not only brings more than 17 years of private practice experience to his new role, he also brings additional years of experience from the academic environment as a former Assistant Professor, specializing in geriatrics, at the Joan C. Edwards Marshall University School of Medicine.

“We welcome the addition of Dr. Bukovinsky to our Hurricane team,” noted Steve Shattls, chief executive officer of Valley Health. “His background, which has included extensive experience in all areas of family medical care, will serve our patients well.”

Board-certified by the American Academy of Family Physicians, Dr. Bukovinsky received his medical degree and completed his residency at the Joan C. Edwards Marshall University School of Medicine with qualifications to care for patients of every age.

Dr. Bukovinsky, who is now accepting new patients, joins a strong team of physicians at the Hurricane location that include Jane Nicholas, MD, and Clinton Sloan, DO. The practice, which specializes in family medicine, internal medicine and pediatrics, also offers the convenience of after hours care for unexpected illnesses and injuries Monday through Friday from 5 p.m. to 9 p.m. and on Saturday from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Valley Health – Hurricane is located at 3701 Teays Valley Road, Suite B in Hurricane, WV. Patients wishing to receive more information or schedule an appointment may call (304) 760-6040.
